

Dear Patients,

My tam and I would not be fulfilling our duties as dental professionals if we did not advise you of a potential health risk. Did you know that tooth decay is the most common non-contagious disease? So as part of our commitment to delivering the highest level of preventative dentistry, we want to encourage you to consider your dental needs before the year ends. So that any diagnosed treatment doesn't become more complex and costly in the future, please call for an appointment today. Many of you have insurance or flex plans that provide coverage for your dental care that will not be carried over to 2014, so please allow us to help maximize your benefits.

Evidence is mounting linking gum disease to a variety of health concerns, including diabetes, cardiovascular disease and stroke. Most recently, the bacteria from periodontal disease was found in the placenta of a pregnant woman in Michigan which resulted in a stillborn birth. Regular hygiene visits and oral exams can uncover systemic health problems early. By working together, we can help increase your chance for a long and happy life

If you are contemplating treatment, or if you are simply concerned about any aspect of your health and have questions, we welcome your call.

Sincerely,

United Dental Group
